The semi-finals of the Wednesday Match Play was played today by Ted Danych and John Chandler, John Davey and Peter Lopusiewicz.

John Chandler won his match and John Davey won his.

So next week weather permitting the two Johns will play their final.

They will start on the 1st Tee a little ahead of the rest of the field so there is no interruptions to their match and will be accompanied by Phil Wilson and Robin

Broadmore.

The winners playing Net today for the Wednesday New World Vouchers were as follows:

Clayton Riddle 72, Robin Broadmore 72, Jim Newlove 72, John Chandler 72, each got $20;

Robert Middleton 74, $10;

Geoff Peters 76, John Davey 76, Phil Wilson 77, Greg Fowler 77, each got $5.

We had 4 ladies join us today which is great. The ladies are always welcome to join in with us.

We had no 2's today so 4 balls will jackpot to next Wednesday. We had 7 lucky raffle winners.

We had the pleasure of seeing David Butler and Lee Mather back on the golf course today.

Peter Pearce was presented with his Hole In One trophy. Remember everyone, this is your day, and if you can help in some little way or would like to learn one of the roles we will gladly coach you.

We are looking at running the Wednesday Top Dog shortly and information on this event will be announced at our next Wednesday haggie.

Cheers ... Phil Wilson

Greg Norman Golfing Tips Don't Toe The Line

I can't tell you how many times I've seen players - both pros and amateurs - check their alignment by setting a club along the line that connects their toes. In my view, that's a mistake.

The reason is that most players tend to flare open one or both of their feet. Most common is the flared left foot, which brings the left toe back four or five centimetres from the target line. The result is that, if you lay a club down from toe to toe, that line will point well left of target, and will not reflect your actual alignment. Your hips, knees, and shoulders may be perfectly square, but the flared toe line will make you look open. A more precise way to check alignment is to lay the club along your heel line. As your toes flare, your heels remain on line, so the line that connects your heels will accurately reflect the actual alignment of your feet. shots.

Rules corner #5: Temporary water (also known as casual water)

Definition:

Any temporary accumulation of water on the surface of the ground

Some examples of temporary water are

- puddles from rain or irrigation or an overflow from a body of water

Relief from Temporary Water is defined under Rule 16 Abnormal ground conditions

When Relief Is Allowed?

Interference exists when any one of these is true:

- The player's ball touches or is in or on an abnormal course condition,
- Temporary water interferes with the player's area of intended stance
- Water can be seen before or after the player takes a stance (without pressing down excessively with his or her feet).

NOTES:

- It is not enough for the ground to be merely wet, muddy or soft or for the water to be momentarily visible as the player steps on the ground; an accumulation of water must remain present either before or after the stance is taken.
- Your ball must be on the green to get relief from temporary water on your line of play.
- If the water is close enough to distract the player but does not meet any of these requirements, there is no interference under this Rule.
- There is no relief for temporary water in penalty areas

Relief

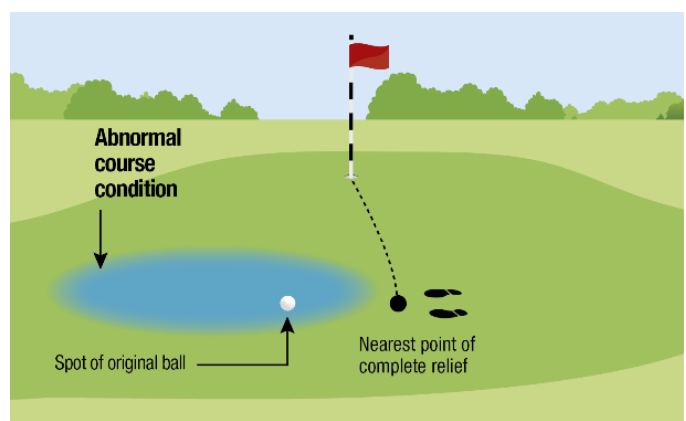

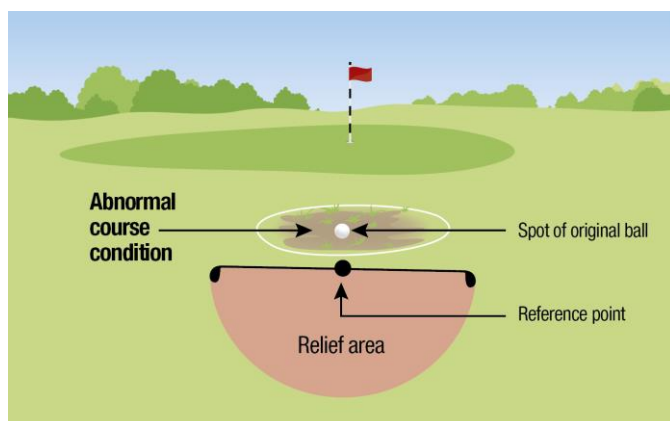

If there is interference, the player may take FREE relief (Rule 16.1b)

- Relief is One club-length from the nearest point of complete relief in the general area, with these limits:
 - Must be in the general area
 - Must not be nearer the hole than the point of relief
 - There must be complete relief from all interference by the abnormal course condition.

NOTE:

- You no longer need to find your ball in temporary water. If it is known or virtually certain that the ball came to rest in temporary water, the player may take relief using the estimated point where the ball last crossed the edge of the temporary water.
 - Once the player puts another ball in play, the original ball is no longer in play and must not be played even if it is then found before the end of the three-minute search time
- Always identify your nearest point of relief before you move your ball. Remember it is the nearest point of relief and it may not put you in a better position.

Relief is one club length from the nearest point where the player is clear of the abnormal condition

This diagram assumes the player is left-handed
